

Making a Difference: A Course in Leadership and Creative Opportunities

"We can do no great things, only small things with great love"
Mother Theresa

Be the author of your own project to make a difference in the lives of an individual, groups or the community or, if you would prefer, be a partner or participant in a project that has meaning for you. This course will guide you in making your wish to make a difference in some area that has deep meaning for you and make your wish a reality. The IIHU Project of promoting responses reflective of humanitarian ideals, alleviating human suffering and improving the quality of life for all, inspires this course and will inspire you to develop a project of your own to make these kinds of differences. With the support of the class, small and grand ideas will become the means for truly making a difference in the lives of others.

Come as in individual or come as a group with a specific project in mind.

"Never doubt that a small group of committed people can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has"
--Margaret Mead

Facilitator: Patricia Munhall founded and is president of the International Institute for Human Understanding. She holds a doctorate from and was a former professor at Columbia University and is now a practicing psychoanalyst in the Grove. She is dedicated to making a difference and assisting others actualize their dreams to do the same.